5½-month agreement negotiated March 20, 1973, provided: 3-percent wage increase retroactive to December 4, 1972, and 3 percent January 1974; minimum 2 percent cost-of-living adjustment in July 1974; full-day Good Friday (was half day); and improvements in life and health insurance.

7 week strike ended with a 4-year agreement negotiated Feb. 27, 1973, which provided for 4 percent salary increase (7 percent for teachers with 11 years of service) each contract year, plus $100 increase in increment teachers received after first 10 years of service; 35 pupil maximum class size in 1975 (was 33); 45 minute daily preparation period for high school teachers.

Agreement provided a 2.5-percent wage increase; also reduced school year to 39 weeks (from 40) with no loss in pay; other benefits were also included.

2-year contract which provides for numerous adjustments in working conditions, evening-out of vacation schedules and set a limit of 23 hours overtime for nonacademic employees. No salary increase.

Strike occurred when Penn Central issued a rule reducing the basic train crew, through attrition, from 3 men to 2 and ended when strikers were ordered back to work for 90 days by congressional legislation. On May 25, 1973, Penn Central officials postponed indefinitely the reduction in crew size.

Protest against a new company policy permitting customers to disconnect their own phones when they move. Union contended that the policy would take work from installers and could also prove dangerous to customers. Company practice was continued.

Protest over shift rotation policies at selected U.S. Steel Corp. Mines. Roving pickets closed other mines in the area. Operations resumed after company agreed to meet on problems with UNW president.

CJA—deferred increase of 26 cents, effective November 1, 1973, approved by the Construction Industry Stabilization Committee October 13, 1973; 2-year agreement also provided: 43 cents an hour increase May 1, 1973, and 47 cents an hour May 1, 1974; CISC maintained jurisdiction over the 1974 increases.

LIUNA—2-year agreement provided 35 cents an hour increase May 1, 1973, and 35 cents an hour increase on May 1, 1974.

Strike, which resulted from a grievance involving a pay rate dispute of 1 employee and the suspension of 2 other employees for fighting. The employees returned to work voluntarily.

Terms are similar to B. F. Goodrich Co. settlement listed above.

3-year agreement with a pay increase of $1.10 an hour over a 3-year period—40 cents in 1973 and 35 cents in each of the next 2 years. Before the increase driver-stitchers were paid $4.65 an hour, drivers and folders $4.25.

A settlement was reached when the Board of Education agreed to drop a demand that the Detroit Federation of Teachers pay the $100,000-a-day cost of keeping administrative personnel in idle schools and the teachers agreed to call off an unfair labor practices action. The substantive issues which caused the strike—wages and class size—are to be submitted to compulsory arbitration, and teacher accountability was to be made the subject of a special panel appointed by the Governor.

3-year agreement with a wage increase of 3 percent in each year of the contract, plus an additional 12 cents an hour in the first year raising the basic wage of an assembly line worker from $4.48 to $4.73 an hour in the first year of the contract, and improvements in pension plan.

<sup>5</sup> "Work Stoppages, 1973, Selected Final Tabulations" revised. This revision applies to all tables that contain industry data including tables that apply only to government work stoppages.

<sup>6</sup> The situations reported here have, for statistical purposes, been deemed to fall within the Bureau's definition of a work stoppage. This does not constitute a legal determination that a work stoppage has taken place in violation of any law or public policy.

NOTE: Because of rounding, sums of individual items may not equal totals. Dashes denote zeros.
